

Name _____

Donating

Donating is giving part of what you have to others. Donations can be money, resources, or time. Many people donate goods such as food and clothing. They donate these to those who need them. Others donate money to people and organizations that solve community problems. You can also donate your time by serving others.

Activity

Fill in the boxes with things that you would like to buy, jobs you can do to earn money, and who you can help with your money.
